

Flat Screens 10: The LAST Flat Screens

We are delighted to ask you to join us at the final, 10th, Flat Screens screening & conversation on Wednesday 4th April, from 7 – 9.30pm. FREE

We are so lucky to have the last screening hosted by Hackney based filmmakers Dan Edelstyn and Hilary Powell.

How To Re-establish A Vodka Empire

+ Dan Edelstyn and Hilary Powell will talk about their film afterwards.

HOW TO RE-ESTABLISH A VODKA EMPIRE charts the journey of film director Dan Edelstyn as he tracks down his long-lost Jewish Ukrainian heritage, and then attempts to re-launch his great grandfather's once glorious vodka empire.

The film is a whirlwind journey back in time to the life of the director's grandmother Maroussia Zorokovich - writer, dancer, painter and romantic - and follows her exciting and turbulent journey during the 1917 Russian Revolution, out of Ukraine, across Europe and into exile in Belfast.

But it is also a moving and comic account of a modern-day struggle to get a business started in the cutthroat world of the drinks industry. It is a meditation on loss and identity, and a celebration of family and life itself, cleverly disguised as a screwball business adventure.

There will (of course!!!) be Vodka tasting. Please bring snacks or desert to share.

Due to the nature of the space, booking for this event is essential. Please RSVP to: info@fugitiveimages.org.uk / Studio75 is located at 75 Hebden Court, Laburnum Street, Haggerston E2 8BG; www.studio75.org.uk/map.html
